G'day All

I jusy got a Degen 1103 recently to use as a portable when travelling etc.
It seems pretty good so far but as far as I can see it has a design fault in the whip. If the radio is on the prop stand which makes pressing the buttons easier, the whip cannot be raised to vertica. On my Sony 7601 the whip can be pulled up from the body to overcome this. Am I missing something with it? I have tried pulling reasonably hard on the whip but it wont move.

Cheers .....Mike B

Yep it is a design goof. There is a mod on the Kaito-degen 1103 yahoo group for the antenna. Hope that helps, Josh

Hello, all folks!

I just started to be a new member.
May I ask, if there will be any files with information in SW-Antennas here? Perhaps with photos and text, how to construct and so on...?
If you have been looking at the Hard-core-dx-(etc); they have a lot of information on their group's pages.

With best regards, 73, from Aimo.

Hi Vernon.

Welcome to the group.

I see that your other group is fairly new also. You can go through the growing pains with us. Hopefully we can share experiences between groups.

I'm not a ham yet but I am studying for my license. I was really into SWL and ham back int the seventies when I was a mere teenager. Never did get the license because of the code requirement.

Hi.

My name is Marshall and I live in NE Florida. I'm not a ham yet but I am studying for my license. I was really into SWL and ham back in the '70s when I was a mere teenager. Never did get the license because of the code requirement.

My interests just resurfaced recently and I'm getting back into the hobby. My main interest is in DXing and I've just purchased a Realistic DX-160. I had one of these in the '70s. I'm also interested in scanning as well as getting my license so that I can participate in local communications during emergencies.

If you are in the USA no. But for the time being you do need to study the code if you intend on upgrading. However this could change as the FCC may drop the code requirement.

Hi Marshall,

I'd like to introduce myself. My name is Ryan and I am the founder of Intercon Radio. I found out about your group through one of Vernon's postings and knew this was a group I had to join.
You have a great concept here. Its nice to to see a group that takes on a diferent area. There are many fine groups out there that cover just shortwave radios or scanning, but its great to see one covering antennas. I look forward to being a member of a group that can offer a unique are of interest.

From what I know its a folding loop antenna and it appears to a preselector. Ironically it doesn't operate off of AC.

Hiya

One word of advice to members is not to let this group start with a bitch fest about the old group or the members still in it.

We have moved to get away from the anoying spam and the inactivity of the owner and moderators to do anything about it.
So let it be just that , no personal attacks or attacks on the old group.

Either 2 things will happen , both groups will continue side by side with a differnet flavour or one will become inactive., but be sure , a group founded on hate WILL FAIL.

I have seen it before. - so no personal attacks hey guys. ?!?

I agree 100%.

The other group is not our enemy.

That said, I'm moderating this group and while references to other groups is allowed (of course) I won't allow bashing of other groups.

We started this to keep down on spam and keep posts somewhat centered around antennas and SWL/ham topics. Let's keep it that way.

Currently anyone can join and posts don't need approval. I would like it to stay that way.

For those who receive individual emails rather than view on-line I can't promise that no spam will get through. But I can promise that things will get cleaned up quickly in the web version of the group.

To those who want to get into Ham, well, two meter, and 440, and all of that if you study for your Technician Class , No Code, you can find a world of fun on the bands. As to when the code will be lifted, only God knows when that will happen. It has been recommended, but still is in the works as far as I know. There are a handful, perhaps more of us Technicians who are dying to take our General Exam tests, when the gate is finally lifted.

To the No Code Tech, you can Moon Bounce, that is you can aim a signal at the moon and see where it lands. You can track satelites, you can talk to Astronoughts, if only for the short period of time they are within your area, and through repeaters, and there are a ton of them, you can talk round the world.

One of the things which is not emphazied enough , distance is not one of the limitations to the Technician. Power, and band allocation are though.
If you are thinking of jumping into Ham, please come in the water is fine.

Hi all

I have posted in the links section a link to my page - ¨Shortwave Antennas for Newbies¨

http://www.geocities.com/onegammyleg/newbants/newbyant01.html

For those starting out in shortwave antennas it all can be a complex mess of facts , figures and maths , so I have simplified the practical theory an dpresented it here.
Although not complete and perfectly accurate in every detail for the sake of simplicity it does however impart some very usefull info , making a fine basis for understanding simple antenna concepts.

Hey everybody, let's get chatting about SWL and Antennas. :) Does anyone know if I were to use a 10 AWG wire for SWL, would that improve the reception?

Hiya

Larger diameter conductors have greater surface area than smaller ones.
A bigger diameter wire should present a greater signal strength to the receiver.
Problem is bigger wires weigh more , and then mechanical problems exist, for example the wire not being strong enough to support its own weight without breaking or stretching.
An alternative is to use Litz wire , basicly it is many seprate strands of wire woven in such a particular way as to maximize skin suface area versus weight.
Most often used in coil winding it may however it may be too expensive for long spans for longiwres.

But for SWL antennas in the real world , wire sizes or construction probably makes no see-able difference at all.

Hi Vince,

I would think that 10 awg is getting to a size that would be a little tough to work with. And as someone else mentioned the weight could be an issue.

Is that you SWL setup on the homepage for the group? How about describing the setup? Is that little antenna on the right side of the DX-160 any good?

Unfortunately I just inherited that photo. I'm trying to find the shack's owner. I think I know and I've email him but no answer yet. If anyone knows the real owner please let me know.

To answer some of your questions, the radio is a Realistic DX-160. The green thing on top of the radio is a digital frequency readout and the thing to the left of it appears to be an antenna tuner. The colorful things on the wall are antenna input boxes. There does appear to be a world clock on the left side and I know nothing about the map.

For better images I think these are more pictures of the same setup:

Either check the contents for countries/subjects of interest and then go to that issue, or skim thru each issue and read whatever interests you, or read the entire issues (recommended).

If this is too much trouble, you can use the dxld archive to search for keywords or frequencies when you want to research something.

I was just looking at a blurb about you in Monitoring Times and I checked your website a few minutes ago.

I have one more question - are these times that that the countries etc will be broadcasting or are these the times at which they were heard on a given day? In other words is this historical data or future data?

Please forgive my ignorance but I'm new to this and I've seen a lot of these but don't fully understand what I'm looking at. I'm sure there are a few others with the same problem. Then again maybe I'm the only dummy around here. :-)

It`s a mixture. In DXLD the dates of reception are given whenever possible. This may be just a snapshot, so you may be able to hear something similar on another day at the same time. Or not.

But there are also schedules, partial or complete. In this case start and end times are given. ``A-05`` is shorthand for the current shortwave broadcasting season which lasts until the last Sunday in March, when B-06 takes over. Since we are well into the A-05 season now, most of the schedules involve revisions and changes to the original schedules. Glenn Thanks again Glenn.

I have the Passport to World Band Radio but the service you provide is a lot more timely that something published once a year.

I'm sure this takes a lot of work and your efforts are appreciated by a lot of people.

Now if my SW Radio would just arrive I could actually use this stuff
I'm reading about.

A vintage DX-160.

I had one as a teenager in the '70s and can't wait to get my hands on it again.

I'm also looking for a scanner and checking out the BCT8.

I'm working on my ham license and still researching transceivers for that. I think both 6 and 2 meter are active in my area.

Hiya Marshall

A doublet is simply a non-resonant dipole.- nothing magical at all.

Text on that page said ¨Jim was the one who told me that if I made the legs 22 feet on a side that the antenna would have basically the same radiation patterns on all bands from 40 - 10 meters.¨

Note that this comment is only relavant to transmitting on resonant frequencies across the various amatuer bands.

It does NOT mean , that it is broad banded., and for SW reception it probably would be prety sad.

Also this antenna requires a tuner and constructing it out of the materials he sugests is not good.
He does not take into account the velocity factor of that feeder cable.

For SWL a few quality made dipoles of various lengths or a fan dipole fed with quality coax can offer a good wideband RX solution.

Hi Tennessee Steve

I have a PDF manual for you, email your full email address to me at onegammylegATyahoo.com.au and ile send it back to you.
It is 3Mb in size so make sure that space is free in your box.

It is quite important to have the manual for this and many of the newer digital radios as they have setup key functions that are impossible just to stumble upon.

Antenna - on this radio there are both hi-Z and lo-Z connections which gives some flexibilty in antenna design.
Normally random length wires get hooked up to the hi-Z terminal and Coax fed antennas (dipoles related etc) to the lo-Z

If you live in an urban area I suggest using coax feedlines to reduce noise on the lead in.
If your lucky enough to live in the country side where it is electricaly quiet , antenna choice can be less critical.

If you havent seen my web page yet I sugest it.
It has a section on SW antennas for newbies.

I would try an AN-LP1 indoor antenna. It works well, and with a fine radio as you have. It ought to draw in lots of stations. Passport to The World Band Radio gives it two thumbs up, one for effectiveness, and the other for how cheap it is. i have one, and it does well.

Hi, Steve!
For a good start to be able to receive Short Wave stations, I warmly suggest purchasing the new Degen DE31 Shortwave Active Loop Antenna from tquchina@.... Tao Q is selling it for 16,90 + mailing costs in ebay. It is corresponding as the SONY AN-LP1, but much cheaper. I am very satisfied with it and its AM version TG33 Mediumwave Active Loop Antenna, same size, same price. You just hang it on the window (or as I do, off the ceiling to easier turn it around as needed), and signals are entering your nice receiver from all parts of the earth!
Good listening + 73!

Hey guys, " Lowbander " has a super cool looking DX-120 up for sale up on ebay, it radio looks like it came straight out of the box, it looks brand new! Very close to being mint! " Lowbander " did an outstanding job at restoring this little gem! Have a look at the site if anyone is interested in purchasing one and ever thought of owning one of these babies.

Hello,
My name is Jim Lamb and I live in southwestern Indiana. I will be retiring soon and I want to get back into building radios and other electronic devices.
Several years ago I was an avid shortwave listener, I still have my Drake receivers,SPR4 and R4C, old but reliable. I got out my old radio parts and started gathering new information.
I want to get into longwave, mediumwave, and vhf as well as shortwave . I also want to experiment with antennas, dipole, vertical,etc.
I live in the country on 18 acres so space will not be a problem.
I am looking forward to participating in the group.
Jim

From: jllamb62
Topic: 103 Message: 103

Back in the mid 80s there was an excellent electronics magazine called Hands On Electronics. In the May/June 1986 issue was article by Ed Noll W3FQJ called Flexo SWL Aerial. I always wanted to try this antenna, now I will have the time and room to put it up. There are two problems, I have the original article but I don't have the correction for the control box that appeared in the next issue.
The second problem is I have looked all over the internet for Ed Noll or W3FQJ.
All I get are sites selling his books, no web or home address.
So, I need help. Does anyone remember the magazine and kept the article and correction?
Anyone who belongs to other groups will see this post again and again, etc.

110. Human-buttons

Yahoo group: ShortwaveSWLAntenna2nd
Date: 2006-04-28 23:37:13 UTC
From: swldxlisten3@un.unhcr.biz

This campaign is about Human beings, Democracy, UNHCR, Refugees, The Iraqis, Islam, Kurds, Human rights, Respect, Money, Donations, Angelina Jolie, Pavarotti, Giorgio Armani, Donors, Peace, History, Campaigns and about you if you care about these words.

Hi there,

I am SAM, an Iraqi refugee living in Lebanon at the moment; I have spent the last 10 years of my life as a refugee registered with the UNHCR in Beirut. The last 4 years, I have spent as an activist for peace and human rights (especially refugees and asylum seekers) on the Internet; I'm also books author and ebooks publisher. I have launched many campaigns to improve our situation as refugees in Lebanon and hopefully bring more understanding to our problems worldwide. I helped make many changes and improvements at the UNHCR office in Beirut; I used the Internet as the field for my activities (you can read more about that in my free ebook 'MY CAMPAIGNS'). All my ebooks are free and could be download from my sites.

This is my newest campaign, it's about the illegal and humiliating actions of the UNHCR, who using photos of refugees as banners and human-buttons to collect money. This is an abuse of the dignity and humanity of the refugees and must stop immediately and a clear public apology present by The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. My friends, I am talking about the pictures you can see here: http://www.angelfire.com/yt3/un4

Also you can read my new campaign 'Urgent, we need smile' here:
http://unhcrlebanon.741.com/email_me.htm

For more info about UNHCR and life of refugees you can read my free ebooks. I invite you as fellow humans and members of the world community to support my campaign by reading my article on my site and see the human-buttons. The campaign is to support and improve the UNHCR http://www.unhcr.org especially after the last scandals in the UN and UNHCR, just for example: http://www.mizzima.com/archives/news-in-2005/news-in-april/12-April05-22.htm

"We make demonstration and fast because the UNHCR office in Cairo did nothing for our problem..." http://news.bbc.co.uk/2/hi/africa/4440730.stm

Together we will build better world.

You could reach me fast via this form: http://unhcrlebanon.topcities.com/email_me.htm and if you like to know more about me, you can google for my name 'osam altaee'.

Thanks

From: gvastianos
Topic: 165 Message: 165

EUROPEAN AMPLITUDE MODULATION AMATEUR RADIO GROUP

NEW YAHOO GROUP: http://groups.yahoo.com/group/eamarg/

This is a group for licenced amateur radio operators (HAMs) who are interested in the AMPLITUDE MODULATION (AM) mode of communications. The group exists to promote the AM operation in the HAM bands and provide information about operating events and technical matters.

EAMARG encourages regional AM activity insuring there is AM available somewhere on the amateur bands. Based on the fact that the majority of the AM calling frequencies in USA belong outside the european HF bandplans... one of the EAMARG main goals is to help in the establishment of AM calling frequencies that will be compatible with the HF bandplans of the european countries.

EAMARG future plans including the sponsorship of operating events and contests that will promote the use of Amplitude Modulation.

In order to join this group YOU MUST BE a licenced radio amateur. Only membership requests that include name and valid callsign will be accepted.

Hi, it's R5000.
I finally decided I'd had enough of junk mail, and installed a fantastic application that gets rid of it all.
Unfortunately, you are not yet in my trusted senders list!! The only way I'll get your emails is if you follow the steps outlined below:

Here's all you have to do:

1. Press Reply
2. In the body of the reply, type in my AntiSpam Passcode contained in the graphical attachment.
3. Press Send

When I receive this reply, I will know that it was really you that sent me the email and not a computerized spammer. I will then be able to receive all your mail. This authentication will be done only once.

Thank you & have a great day,
R5000

You are receiving this messages in response to your email to R5000@..., a Comodo AntiSpam user.
Our Passcode Authentication Technology requires senders to verify themselves before their mail is delivered. You will only need to do this once.

Comodo AntiSpam is completely free. Experience a 100% spam free inbox for yourself by visiting Hello group!

I want to invite you to U.S. World Radio Discussion Group, that is a group for Radio Listeners and DXers around of world.
Below follows a brief description:

This is a discussion group for those interested in U.S. & World Radio, covering traditional, terrestrial broadcast, international shortwave and satellite radio. If it has to do with local, regional, domestic U.S. or international radio, or just plain general radio, and you have an interest, we invite you to join.

Whether you are a current, seasoned radio profesional, or someone who just has an interest, or possibly a radio historian, you are invited to share your radio stories, photos and sound from the past while we also look at present day radio and its future.

The group receives all interested in sharing information about radio in the United States and all World.

To join the group it is necessary only to access your page:

Hey guys, is there anywhere on the web where I can purchase an external antenna for this Grundig FR-200 SWR? I accidentally drop it on the rug here and bent the hell out of the antenna and now looking for a replacement. I'm wondering if RS might have it but not sure if their replacements have the same dimensions as the original, any of you guys out there can help me out, thanks.
Victor

471. Right Guide For Building Regulations

When my husband and I planned about the house that we will have, I told him that the wiring should be placed in a safe place where it cannot be reached by our children to prevent fatal injuries caused by electricity. That is why he made it sure that the installation of all the wiring of switches, sockets and cables were perfectly done by hiring a licensed electrician who strictly followed the Part P building regulations <http://uk-building-regulations.com/part-p> guide for electrical safety of the UK Building Regulations.

With the help of that guide we gained knowledge in preventing future accidents caused by wrong installation of electrical wiring. Good thing that the UK Building Regulations offers a complete and up to-date guide of building regulations.

If you want to know more about these regulations, visit the site of UK Building Regulations at http://www.uk-building-regulations.com/ <http://www.uk-building-regulations.com/>

472. The Most Up to Date UK Building Regulations Resource

Building a home is more than just hiring home builders and let them do the job for you. There are still many things we need to know like the household planning as well as a thing or two about the building regulations <http://uk-building-regulations.com/> in the UK. Yeah, you can guess we have a difficult time finding references to these topics but thanks to UK Building Regulations, we were able to get a copy of the Household planning permission guide which is an in-depth guide that covers all the key areas of applying for planning permission. It was easy to download and we were reading it in minutes! If you also need up to date building regulations in the UK, just get a copy of it from http://uk-building-regulations.com/ <http://uk-building-regulations.com/>
